PRINE Health Announces Major Expansion of Primary Care Division, Welcoming Three New Physicians Across Long Island

Dr. Vina Cruz, Dr. Manyle Ahmed, and Dr. Fazal Faroqui join PRINE Health, expanding access to comprehensive, patient-centered primary care in Bellmore, Plainview, Hicksville, and Manhasset.

LONG ISLAND, NY | NOVEMBER 2026 PRINE Health is proud to announce a significant expansion of its Primary Care Division with the addition of three physicians: Dr. Vina Cruz, Dr. Manyle Ahmed, and Dr. Fazal Faroqui. This growth marks an important milestone in PRINE Health's continued commitment to delivering accessible, high-quality, coordinated healthcare to communities throughout Long Island.

With an expanded presence in Bellmore, Plainview, Hicksville, and Manhasset, PRINE Health is strengthening its geographic footprint, increasing appointment availability, and bringing comprehensive primary care services closer to the patients and families who need them most.

Welcoming Three Physicians to the PRINE Health Family

The addition of Dr. Cruz, Dr. Ahmed, and Dr. Faroqui reflects PRINE Health's strategic investment in building a robust primary care network centered on preventive medicine, chronic disease management, early intervention, and long-term patient relationships.

Each physician brings valuable clinical experience and a commitment to personalized, compassionate care, further strengthening PRINE Health's ability to serve a growing and diverse patient population.

Together, these physicians will play an integral role in advancing PRINE Health's mission of providing coordinated, comprehensive care while ensuring patients have convenient access to trusted medical professionals within their own communities.

Expanding Our Footprint. Increasing Access. Strengthening Communities.

This expansion is a significant step forward in PRINE Health's long-term growth strategy, allowing the organization to reach more patients across Nassau County while enhancing its ability to deliver timely and convenient primary care services.

"The addition of Dr. Cruz, Dr. Ahmed, and Dr. Faroqui represents a tremendous milestone in the continued growth of PRINE Health. By expanding our Primary Care Division across Bellmore, Plainview, Hicksville, and Manhasset, we are significantly increasing our geographic footprint and, more importantly, improving how quickly and conveniently patients can access the care they deserve. This expansion allows us to reach more families, reduce barriers to care, and strengthen the connection between primary care and our growing network of specialists. We are not simply adding physicians and locations; we are building a more accessible, integrated healthcare experience for the communities we proudly serve."
